This architectural floor plan depicts a multi-level building with a central hall and several specialized rooms. The central hall, shaded in light beige, features rows of chairs and is populated with human figures, suggesting a public or educational environment. To the left, a staircase and a series of small, individual workstations or study areas are visible. On the right, a large lecture hall with tiered seating is shown, along with a long table and chairs. The bottom section of the plan includes a reception area with a desk, a lounge with armchairs, and a rest area with toilets and a sink. The plan uses various line weights and shading to represent walls, furniture, and architectural details.
